

11 THINGS YOU'LL NEED TO COMPLETE YOUR MARKETPLACE APPLICATION

Open Enrollment begins on November 1, and if you're like the rest of us, you could use a little help to prepare. We've put together an important checklist of information and materials you'll need to quickly and easily find the right health insurance plan.

YOUR OPEN ENROLLMENT CHECKLIST

- Personal information, including name, date of birth, and social security number for everyone on your application
- How many people are in your household
- Home and/or mailing addresses for everyone on your application
- Document information, including permanent resident card, refugee travel document, or reentry permit, for legal immigrants on your application
- Tax filing information, including if you'll file jointly or separately and if you'll claim a dependent
- Income and employer information, including name and address, for everyone in your household
- Best estimate for your household income in 2016, including all sources of income
- A completed Employer Coverage Tool if you or anyone on your application is eligible for job-based coverage
- Policy numbers for your current health insurance plans to help you review
- Valid payment source to complete your application
- Your preferred doctors and current medications to help you select the right plan
